Buying into a top heavy franchise requiring a major up-front investment, costly facilities, stifling month-to-month overhead, overwhelming management responsibilities and reliance on others to grow your business, income and wealth, especially in the high-end, is a risky proposition.

Team or Franchise to do this or having to (2) Invest large sums of cash establishing an institutional image to gain access to some small market in head-to-head competition with Big Fish in a Small Pond agents and companies already established there or having to (3)

Be Empowered.

Real estate is not a Job nor is it a Business, though every major franchise program is determined to establish it as both. Real estate is an activity. Specific activities produce specific results. This is time tested and true.

Working independently but with broker/mentor Al Lewis' program to develop an unequalled support team of highly motivated Marketing Partners, Protégés, and Fellows unique to this program you can list and sell high-end real estate irrespective of your time in the business, experience, or success to date and earn essentially any income you desire working part- or full-time immediately. If wanted, you can grow a multifaceted franchise-like business as well but without the many headaches, drawbacks or related costs.

Inside this program you can and will, of course, list and sell properties within all price ranges, but you will be empowered to capture your share of your market's real money at the high-end where and when possible. The "Competition" nor the "State of The Market" are issues you will ever think about again.
